Russian Economics and Finance

"Russia needs to reinvent its economic engine, as the current model doesn't offer appropriate sustainable growth or incentives", said Russian Prime Minister Dmitry Medvedev in January 2015.

To stay informed on developments in the Russian economy, turn to East View's newest database: Russian Economics and Finance. With unique coverage of news and analysis on issues affecting the Russian economy — including finance, commerce, and law, this database is the most comprehensive resource for researchers of developments in Russian civil society.

The primary language of the sources found in the database are in Russian, however, many of the journals include tables of contents, summaries, or even articles in English. Each article is viewed in PDF, and all images are included.

Sample articles include:

- Banking System in Russia - Financial Crisis Test
- Global Sanctions and Russia: Priorities and Economic Security
- Current Standard of Living
- Federal Funding for the Settlement of Conflicts in the Northern Caucasus
- The Dynamics of Global Crude Oil Prices on the Russian Economy
- A Modern View on the Reasons for Terrorism

See opposite side for list of titles included and depth of online archive available for each.
