

Vestnik Evropy (Herald of Europe) 1802–1830 Online

Vestnik Evropy was one of the first literary and political journals, published in the time of the Russian Empire. It is well known among scholars and researchers of Russian history.

The authors and work of Vestnik Evropy played a significant role in the history of Russian literature and social thought. Its impact is interrelated with European culture. This primary source for Slavic scholars is now available online with Old Russian and Modern orthography side by side.

A major influence in the outlook of Russian intellectuals

When originally published the aim of the journal was to provide Russian intellectuals – those that considered themselves “European Russians” – with cultural, historical, political, and literary thought from Europe. Founded in 1802 by the Russian historian and educator, Nikolai Karamzin, Vestnik Evropy became a major influence in the development of a European outlook in Russia.

Contributors to Vestnik Evropy include famous literati of the period.

Nikolai Karamzin,
founder,
Pushkin,
Derzhavin,
Viazemskii,
Zhukovsky,
Sumarokov,
Gnedich,
Bat'yushkov
and many others ...

In 1814 Vestnik Evropy published the first poems of Aleksandr Pushkin, just one of many well know contributors. The journal included works of fiction and poems from Russian authors, articles on politics and social life in Russia as well as in other countries.

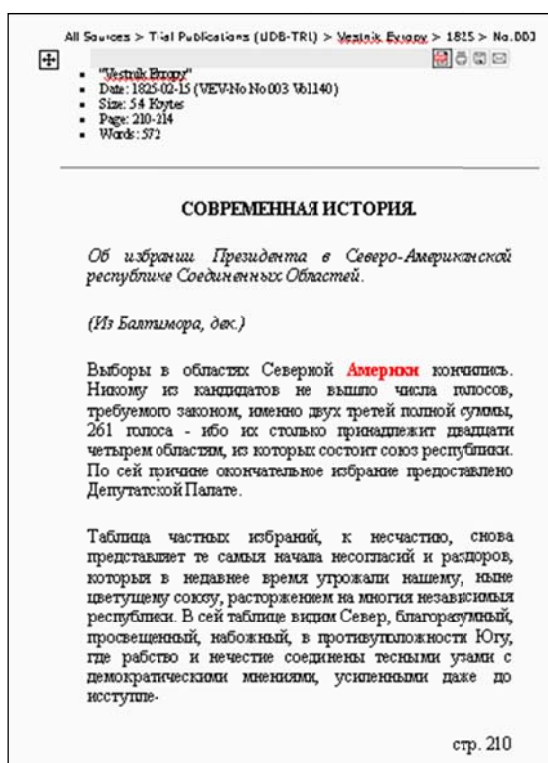

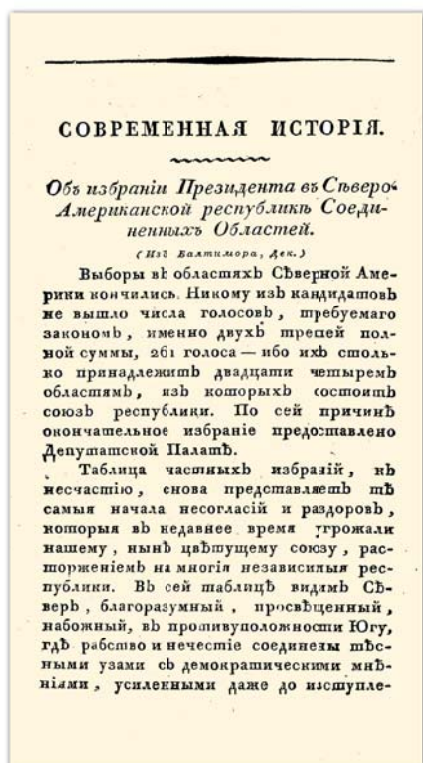

Continued >>

Old Russian and Modern Orthography side by side

The complete set of more than 57,000 pages have been digitized and adapted to East View's familiar and powerful Universal Database™ platform.

East View has meticulously digitized Vestnik Evropy's original Old Russian pages and, at the same time, adapted that into modern Russian orthography, working closely with consultants from Institute of Russian Language in Moscow.

The database has been designed so researchers may work simultaneously with texts in Old (pre-revolutionary) Russian and normalized contemporary orthography with easy-to-use cross search functionality.

Vestnik Evropy's dual-image system provides added value to researchers and students.

Contact East View at info@eastview.com for a trial or more information.