NEW! El Mundo Digital Archive

An East View GPA CRL Alliance Open Access Collection

Founded in 1919, El Mundo (The World) was a respected, conservative newspaper from Puerto Rico and was widely considered a key source for news until it ceased in 1990.

The paper strived to live up to its slogan “Verdad y Justicia” (Truth and Justice). Key topics covered by the newspaper include industrialization of Puerto Rican society, the Great Depression, territorial relations with the United States including citizenship and activities of independence movements such as the Macheteros and FALN, the rise of the Popular Democratic Party, the Ponce massacre, the Ley de la Mordaza (Gag Law) and more.

Open Access to this collection is made possible through the generous support of the Center for Research Libraries and its member institutions.

Independent and Revolutionary Mexican Newspapers

An East View GPA CRL Alliance Open Access Collection

Comprising nearly 1,000 titles from Mexico’s pre-independence, independence and revolutionary periods (1807-1929), the newspapers in this collection provide rare documentation of the dramatic events of this era and include coverage of Mexican partisan politics, yellow press, political and social satire, as well as local, regional, national and international news. While holdings of many of the newspapers in this collection are available only in very short runs, the titles are often unique and, in many cases, represent the only existing record of a newspaper’s short-lived publication.

Most of the titles in the Independent and Revolutionary Mexican Newspapers collection are from the Nettie Lee Benson Latin American Collection, a research library at the University of Texas at Austin for area studies on Mexico, Central and South America, the Caribbean, and the Latino presence in the United States.

Open Access to this collection is made possible through the generous support of the Center for Research Libraries and its member institutions.

Digitization Services: Access Your Archives Online

Today's students and faculty increasingly expect access to all the library's resources online at all hours of the day. It's in the DNA of libraries to provide their researchers with the best and most extensive access to information, but the nature of print or microform collections limits access to researchers unable to visit the library during open hours.

Librarians can now devote more time and energy to what they do best – preserving and promoting the intellectual output of their institution – with East View's service solutions, including digitization, preservation, conversion, hosting, and other value-added services.

Digitizing these unique collections helps libraries connect those resources with their researchers and researchers to your resources. Any content owned by the customer institution can be converted into a more accessible online resource through our comprehensive conversion service, which includes digitization and hosting.

East View, a trusted partner to academic libraries since 1989, offers an unmatched array of digital conversion and hosting services for libraries seeking to optimize their balance between physical and digital collections. Our extensive background in digitization's toughest terrain – converting primary source materials OCR'd in non-English, English, and other Roman scripts into full-image scans with searchable full text – makes East View the ideal partner to help libraries define metadata character sets and special collections for area studies.

Supporting you through the entire production cycle

At East View we understand that each project is unique. Our library consultants will work with you to provide the appropriate level of solutions. We offer a full range of services for digital conversion and hosting, including:

- Digitization and OCRing
- Sourcing materials to complete collections
- Custom metadata creation
- Rights diligence
- Project management
- Development of Open Access or Hybrid Open Access products
- Archival preservation
- Hosting for long-term online access
