OVERVIEW AND BACKGROUND

The Thirteenth Population and Second Housing Census in Chile was carried out November 29, 1960 by the Directorate of Statistics and Censuses. This was the final census carried out by the Directorate of Statistics and Censuses before the current National Institute of Statistics (INE) was formed. In this census, the new concept of “census household” was established, which provided for data collection on two housing categories: “private households” (those who occupy private dwellings), and “non-family groups” (those who occupy what is now referred to as “collective housing”). 7,374,115 individuals were enumerated.
