OVERVIEW AND BACKGROUND

The 2011 Population and Housing Census in Lithuania was carried out from March to May of 2011 by the Lithuanian Department of Statistics. The results were published in 2013. For the first time, individuals could participate in the census via online questionnaire; one third of Lithuania's population chose to do so. The population that had not participated in the e-Census was visited by around five thousand census interviewers. The 2011 census highlighted the epic scale of Lithuanian emigration, with the country losing 12% of its population since 2001. 3,043,429 inhabitants were enumerated.

GEOSPATIAL DATA

The geospatial data of the 2011 Lithuania census includes 3 levels of pol-admin divisions... As of the v 1.0 release, the smallest-unit geography (enumeration areas) were not yet publicly available.
