

PKU Law

A comprehensive collection of Chinese legal information

The premier academic and professional legal database in China, PKU Law (also known as ChinaLawInfo, CLI, LawInfoChina) contains a comprehensive record of historical laws and regulations from both the government and the Communist Party of China dating back to 1921 (formation of CCP). The cases database is comprised of hundreds of millions of civil, criminal, and administrative legal cases that are not reliably accessible elsewhere online. Official English translations of laws, regulations, and key cases are available for a large portion of documents. Collections in the PKU Law universe that are available for package or individual purchase include educational video materials, analysis tools, and reference works.

PKU Law Collections

The PKU Law universe includes 17 databases available for purchase. Content is hosted on the PKU Law platform, with Chinese and English interfaces.
